bio

Denny Bertone, guitarist, teacher, arranger and composer, has played for many artists and collaborated with excellent Italian and international brands such as: Xotic effects USA, Cicognani engineering, Dogal strings, Essetipicks and Tucci Instruments with whom he participated at NAMM 2020 as project consultant for their new line of guitars.

He graduated in 2009 at the Lizard Academy in Turin in rock-fusion guitar with the highest marks and special mention, under the guidance of Miky Bianco. He holds courses and workshops in many Piedmontese schools of modern guitar, effects, improvisation and ensemble music.

Born in Marene, in 1985, Denny discovers at the age of 9 his passion for music, for about 25 years playing the electric and acoustic guitar, preferring rock certainly, but very sensitive to the concept of "fusion" music, that is, everything you can use, mix and contaminate to create new ideas and sounds.

His guitar line-up has always been inspired by great guitar myths such as Jimi Hendrix, Jeff Beck, David Gilmour later approached rock-fusion and funk guitarists, referring to understands like Brett Garsed, Nile Rodgers, Steve Cropper, Greg Howe and Gouthrie Govan.

In addition to the intense teaching activity, he works in many different situations depending on the customer's needs. The current projects in which you can see him engaged are the "Magasin du café" World-Prog Rock, and his solo project with his first instrumental album.
